STEAMSHIP MEN REPORT THAT DAKOTA WILL STOP HERE

Nick Peterson Takes Carbolic

2:20 p. m.—It is reported from the hospital that there is no change in Peterson's condition.

2:15 p. m. Superintendent Eckardt of the Queen's Hospital, states that Nick Peterson is resting with comparative ease at this moment and that there is a prospect of recovery. Naturally he has experienced agonies from the effect of the acid he took this morning, presumably with suicidal intent. He has as yet been unable to make any statement, says the doctor.

Nick Peterson, veteran hackdriver, of 290 stand, King street near Fort, shortly before 10 o'clock this morning swallowed half an ounce of carbolic acid, having previously complained of home troubles.

Peterson purchased the poison at 9:20 o'clock this morning at the Japanese drug store on the corner of Nuuanu and Beretania streets, signing the book for the acid, and stating therein that he wanted the poison for his back horse. He drank the poison clear from a glass from which he had been drinking beer, while lying on a bed in room E, on the ground floor, main side, next to the dining room, in the Honolulu Hotel; the old Eagle house, where he had gone to engage a room yesterday afternoon, telling the proprietor that he had had trouble with his wife.

At 10:05 o'clock this morning a Japanese hack drove post-haste up to the door of the police receiving station and the driver lodged the complaint that he had a fare who refused to dig up half a dollar. Nick Peterson was discovered in the hack, apparently very much intoxicated, at least that was the impression the police gained. He had only five cents in his clothes and it was explained to the hackman that a man with only five cents could not very well pay half a dollar for hack hire. The number of the hack was not observed. The driver whipped up his horse and went away, leaving Nick with the police. Peterson was brought into the receiving station. He could not stand. He was on his knees, his eyes were bulging somewhat and, as it appeared to the police, was suffering from a very large drunk. Peterson had previously on numerous occasions come to the station in an intoxicated condition and was always accommodated with a cell and kept there until he was worn off his legs. The general impression at the station was that the present instance was but a repetition of previous experiences.

Twenty minutes later Mr. Arthur McDowall, proprietor of the Honolulu Hotel, arrived at the police station in a somewhat excited state of mind and announced that Nick Peterson had taken half an ounce of carbolic acid. McDowall produced a small empty bottle labeled in red characters: "Poison, Carbolic Acid." The small told what the contents had been. The label bore no drugist's name.

Upon this information the cell occupied by Peterson was at once visited. Peterson was sprawling on the floor, on his stomach. His face had become very much bloated. He was hurried in to the patrol wagon and, accompanied by Assistant Sheriff Henry Vida, was taken to the Queen's hospital, where the doctors at once got to work on him.

Prior to McDowall's arrival at the station Dr. Emerson had been telephoned for, it being considered that Peterson's appearance called for medical attention.

Proprietor McDowall of the Honolulu hotel made the following statement to a Bulletin reporter this morning:

"I went out this morning to attend to some marketing. When I returned to the hotel, somewhere about 10 o'clock, I was told by my wife and Mr. Redwood that Nick Peterson had been sent out of the house because he was in a state of intoxication and had been making a mess. I went into his room and found a small bottle standing on the floor near the bed he had occupied. It was labeled carbolic acid and was empty. There was a smell of the acid

MAN IN JAIL, FOR FALSE ALARMS, OF GOOD FAMILY

P. A. Davis, the marine in jail charged with having turned in false fire alarms, had his case continued in the police court this morning until Monday. Davis, it seems, is well connected in the east. He is 35 years of age. His failing seems to be an uncontrollable desire for drink. On this account he enlisted into the government service purposely to be sent to Midway Island, hoping the stay there would break him of his habit.

Davis is originally from Boston. A sister is married to one of the best known bank cashiers in Boston. Some five or six years ago Davis was a purser on a steamship line running from the Orient to San Francisco. Owing to his failing for drinking he lost his position. He is an expert bookkeeper. His failing, as termed by physicians, is known as dipsomania.

Davis, during his ten months' stay on Midway, has been doing most of the clerical work for the officers stationed there. While there he was promoted to a corporal. His reports are said to have been remarkable for their accuracy, combined with unusual neatness.

WORK OR NO WORK ON PLANTATION TO BE DECIDED TONIGHT

The cane loaders on a strike at the Waipahu plantation, about 1400 of them, Japanese, who have been out several days, will either have to agree to return to work this evening at 6 o'clock, or prepare to leave the place tomorrow. Captain Sam Leslie, and twenty-five policemen, who went to the scene of the disagreement this morning, has not been called upon for help as yet and there has been no demonstration of violence. Twelve of the officers will return to the city tonight.

Assistant Sheriff Henry Vida was requested by a representative of the plantation last evening to send the officers there today. A decision between the laborers and the bosses is to be made this evening and it was thought best to have the policemen on hand in case of necessity. Several conferences between the Japanese and their leaders were held yesterday and again this morning but otherwise they have done nothing except loaf about their homes. It is said that the trouble originated over the difference of $50 between the plantation people and the Japanese bosses.

HARBOR NOT AFFECTED BY THE HIGH WINDS

No damage to amount to anything was done along the waterfront last night by the unusually strong southerly wind. At the Naval Station several trees were blown down but nothing else resulted. The dredger Pacific, working inside the harbor was hampered somewhat by the unusual winds but worked all night as usual. Some difficulty was experienced in keeping the pipe line straight. Several times during the night tugs had to be called out to assist the dredger men. None of the wharves or piers were damaged in the least. In fact the rough water did not reach the harbor.

Hill Liners To Stop Here Homeward Bound

OFFICERS OF THE DAKOTA CONFIRM REPORT

According to officers of the S. S. Mongolia, arriving this morning from the Orient, it is the talk that the Hill steamships, the Minnesota and the Dakota, the two largest vessels afloat on the Pacific ocean, will stop at Honolulu, as stated some time ago, in the near future on the homeward bound voyage. The new rule will go into effect, it seems, next month upon the Minnesota's return to the Coast from her last Oriental trip. The Mongolia people secured their information from some of the big men of the company, Captain Frankie of the Dakota is one who claims that the new arrangement has been decided upon. The Hill liners will go direct to Seattle from Honolulu.

The date of the Minnesota's arrival here has not as yet been decided upon. Owing to the conditions of the channel and harbor now being enlarged, neither of the two ships will make a landing here, but they will call out side and remain a day or so. An effort will be made to get all the freight and passenger business possible.

It seems that the Hill liners have recently been doing a poor business between the United States and the Orient. On the last trip of the Dakota the immense vessel went into Yokohama with only ten passengers aboard. The reason given for stopping here is natural, the company simply desiring to do more business. It is understood the Northern Pacific Company will make a strong effort to secure most of the Orient travel going from Honolulu to the States.

The date of the Minnesota's arrival here has not as yet been decided upon.

Off To Washington Tomorrow Morning To Work For Revenue

J. R. GALT, SECRETARY OAHU DELEGATION.

Hawaii's delegates to Washington, in the interests of the seventy-five per cent. of Federal revenue for local improvements, leave this city tomorrow morning, for San Francisco, in the steamship Mongolia. There are six in the party—four from Oahu, W. O. Smith having preceded the delegation, namely G. W. Smith, J. R. Galt, E. A. McNery and Mark P. Robinson; and A. B. Loebenstein from Hawaii and Dan Case from Maui.

These gentlemen stand as a unit on the policy of directing all their energies to the main object of securing the three-fourths annual Federal revenue. Each one has expressed himself as indifferent to any side issue, and they have agreed not to disagree on any important phase of the campaign in Washington.

There will be a large crowd at the Hackfeld wharf tomorrow to say aloha to the delegation and wish it luck. The Hawaiian band will be on hand and the members will not lack for a send-off.

Olivia Morena yesterday joined the select society of too-much-married Port Rican ladies which the Federal authorities have collected during the past few weeks, she being the fifth of the lot to be arrested on a bigamy charge. This lady is charged with having married on Francisco Hertz on October 7, 1902, and to have married Joe Cahina on October 12, 1905, without waiting for her first spouse to obligingly pass in his checks and thus allow her an unencumbered march along her matrimonial path. She will be given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Maling tomorrow.

A. E. Rennie, purser on the P. M. S. S. Mongolia, is one of the most popular men in the company's employ. A man cannot be more accommodated than Mr. Rennie. It is men like this man Rennie who are in demand and boosted along by the railroad, steamship and hotel officials. He makes friends for the man he works for. He does not believe in making an enemy for the people who pay him a salary. When A. E. Rennie lands at Honolulu he always has so many invitations for dinner—from passengers on the boat coming ashore and hotel men and others—that he is the busiest man in town.

Hawaii Does Well, Says W. A. Kinney In Dealing Honestly

ADVERTISER NOT EXPRESSING TRUE SENTIMENT

Editor Evening Bulletin:—The Advertiser congratulates itself this morning on the advice heretofore given to Hawaii to ignore the Philippine Free Trade Bill, pointing out that the hostility of Payne in the House and of the Representatives from the Philippines to our 75 per cent revenue proposition, is probably due to the position taken by Mr. Hatch before the Ways and Means Committee against free trade with the Philippines; but I believe there are many more in Hawaii who dissent from the position taken by the Advertiser than is apparent on the surface.

Personally I believe that we are making a grave blunder from any standpoint in remaining silent in regard to the Philippine Bill. Even from the standpoint of those most devoted to the 75 per cent revenue plan, we can better afford to earn ill will in the legitimate exercise of our right to oppose the Philippine Bill than we can to earn the merited contempt of those who are fighting the Philippine Bill, and find us standing aloof from them and leaving them to fight our battle with no assistance whatever from us unless it is being given, as the Advertiser suggests, secretly while protesting to the administration that we are taking no part in the fight.

Neither the President of the United States nor any representative in Congress has any legitimate right to black-list us for open, straightforward opposition to that Philippine Bill. If we incur ill-will by that course we incur it deservedly, and there will therefore be a reaction in our favor; on the other hand, we cannot but have contempt for ourselves in keeping our mouths shut in a matter that goes to the very essence of our welfare as is the case with this Philippine measure.

We have a great opportunity to secure an abiding union of interests with the States and Territories interested with us against the Philippine measure. We all remember the splendid, straightforward fight the Michigan delegation to Congress made against Cuban reciprocity and which blocked a greater reduction in favor of Cuba, Colorado and other Western States fighting this Philippine measure are also represented by powerful delegations in Congress. Louisiana also has great power in Congress, particularly with the delegations from Southern States. Though practically the only sugar state from the South
